WELCOME~ בְּרוּכִים הַבָּאִים

Looking back on April, we found ourselves wrapped in the warmth of tradition and the joy of our Jewish customs. Beginning with another memorable Passover Seder, where the familiar aromas of traditional Jewish foods filled the air, and the timeless stories of our people were shared with reverence, laughter, and heartfelt connection. As we held our Haggadahs close, we paused to honor and thank the generous sponsors who helped make the evening so special.

We also came together for a beautiful Shabbat Kodesh Minyan and celebrated Sandy and Andy Remson 40th anniversary, followed by a lovely luncheon. We remain deeply grateful for our dedicated Torah readers and for the gentle, uplifting voice of Cantor Renee, who brings such warmth to our services.

And coming up May 2nd, we'll have the joy of marking another beautiful milestone; the brit mila of baby Ben Perlas. We welcome this precious little one into our community with open arms and full hearts.

A big congratulations to Melanie, Joe, Hannah, and Abigail on the arrival of their newest little one!

Great appreciation to our choir for their participation

What a festive second night Pesach seder and celebration we had! Amidst our prayers, songs, and various seder rituals, I was conversing with someone who shared a meaningful reflection which I will never forget and hope you will not either. They observed that we never know when it will be our last time celebrating with a loved one, whether it's a seder, birthday, Shabbat service, or routine interaction. On the one hand, this is true and perhaps a bit bleak. On the other hand, this is an important reminder to enjoy and appreciate time with our loved ones. Ordinary times transform into exceedingly precious moments when those we love are no longer physically with us. Marcel Proust reflects, "Let us be grateful to people who make us happy; they are the charming gardeners who make our souls blossom."

A hearty Mazal tov to Melanie, Joe, and Hannah on their newborn son/brother! Looking forward to seeing you Shabbat afternoon May 2nd for his bris which starts promptly at 4 pm at Shaarey Tzedek.

Warmly, Rabbi Deborah
